HEAD OFFICE / Borgo Virgilio - Mantova - Italia

REGULATORY

All of our products are designed and manufactured in accordance with current European quality and safety regulations. This starts with the raw materials and goes through the assembly of the various components to the finished products. Each stage is carefully planned, controlled and checked to ensure that the characteristics meet the minimum standards prescribed by the European authorities.

THE GREEN EVOLUTION

Environmental sustainability has always characterised Novellini's vision and is the basis on which it realises its business models. The present and future of the company are moving towards the use of technologies and industrial processes aimed at saving resources, for a lower environmental impact and for the production of even more sustainable products.

The products use components made from a high percentage of recycled material while maintaining high quality standards. Production waste is managed to increase the circularity of materials, re-entering the production cycle.

Production processes are environmentally friendly and constantly updated to reduce environmental impact. An endless love, a tangible responsibility that makes us proud. After the first 50 years, we are aiming for the next century.

WELL-BEING IS DENSE OF SENSATIONS THAT GO STRAIGHT TO THE HEART

There are many roads to achieve well-being.
At least five, like our senses.

For over 50 years we have been designing products that make the senses vibrate, this is wellness according to Novellini. Continuous technological research leads us to constant innovation rooted in a conscious respect for nature.

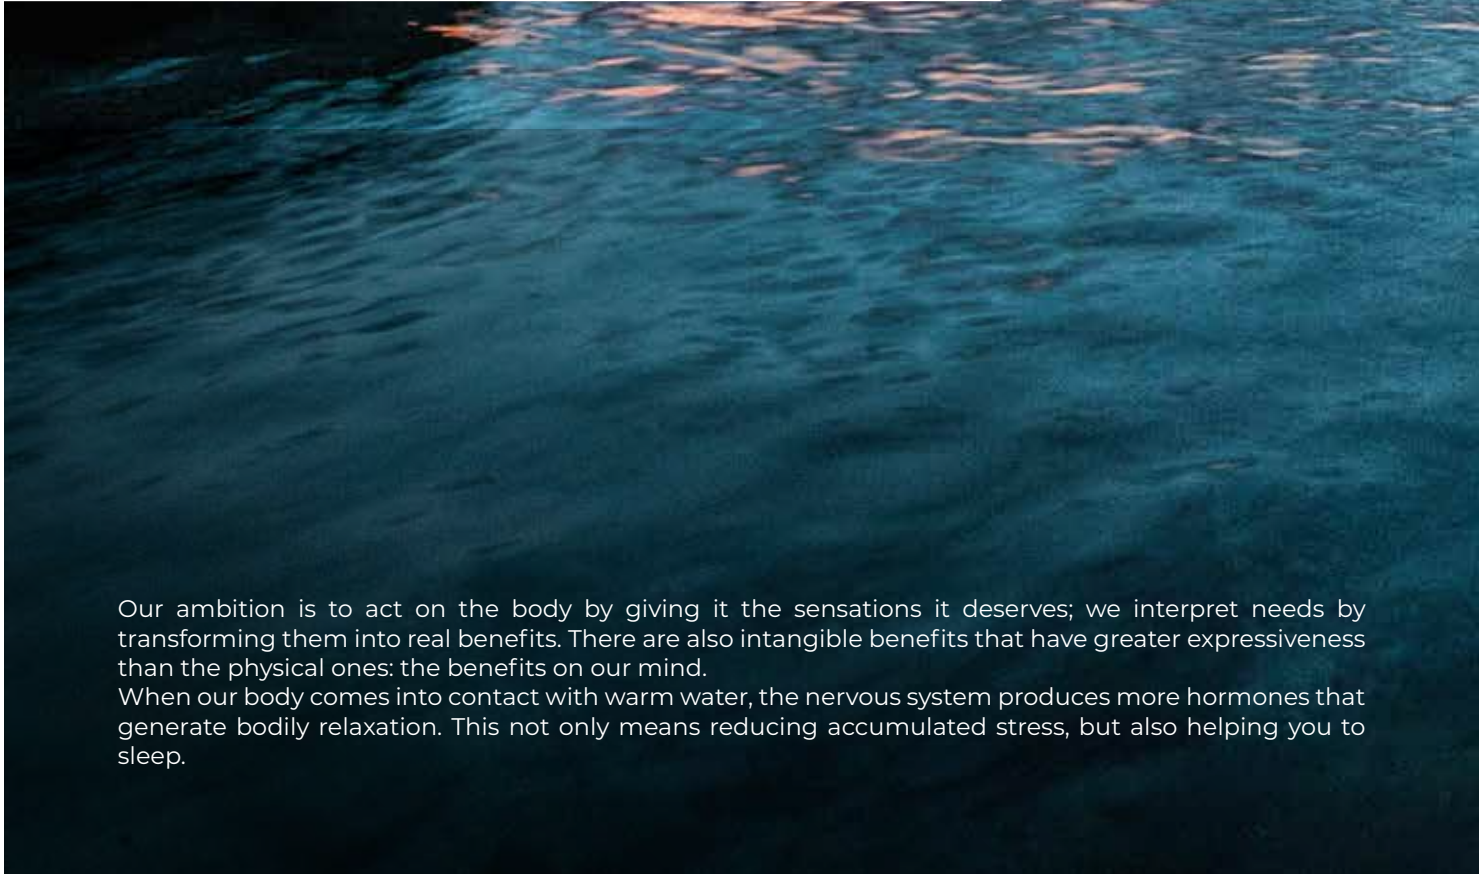

It is thanks to this understanding that we design our products by interpreting the rhythms and elements that surround us. It is these elements that influence our well-being, a well-being we define as 'balance'.

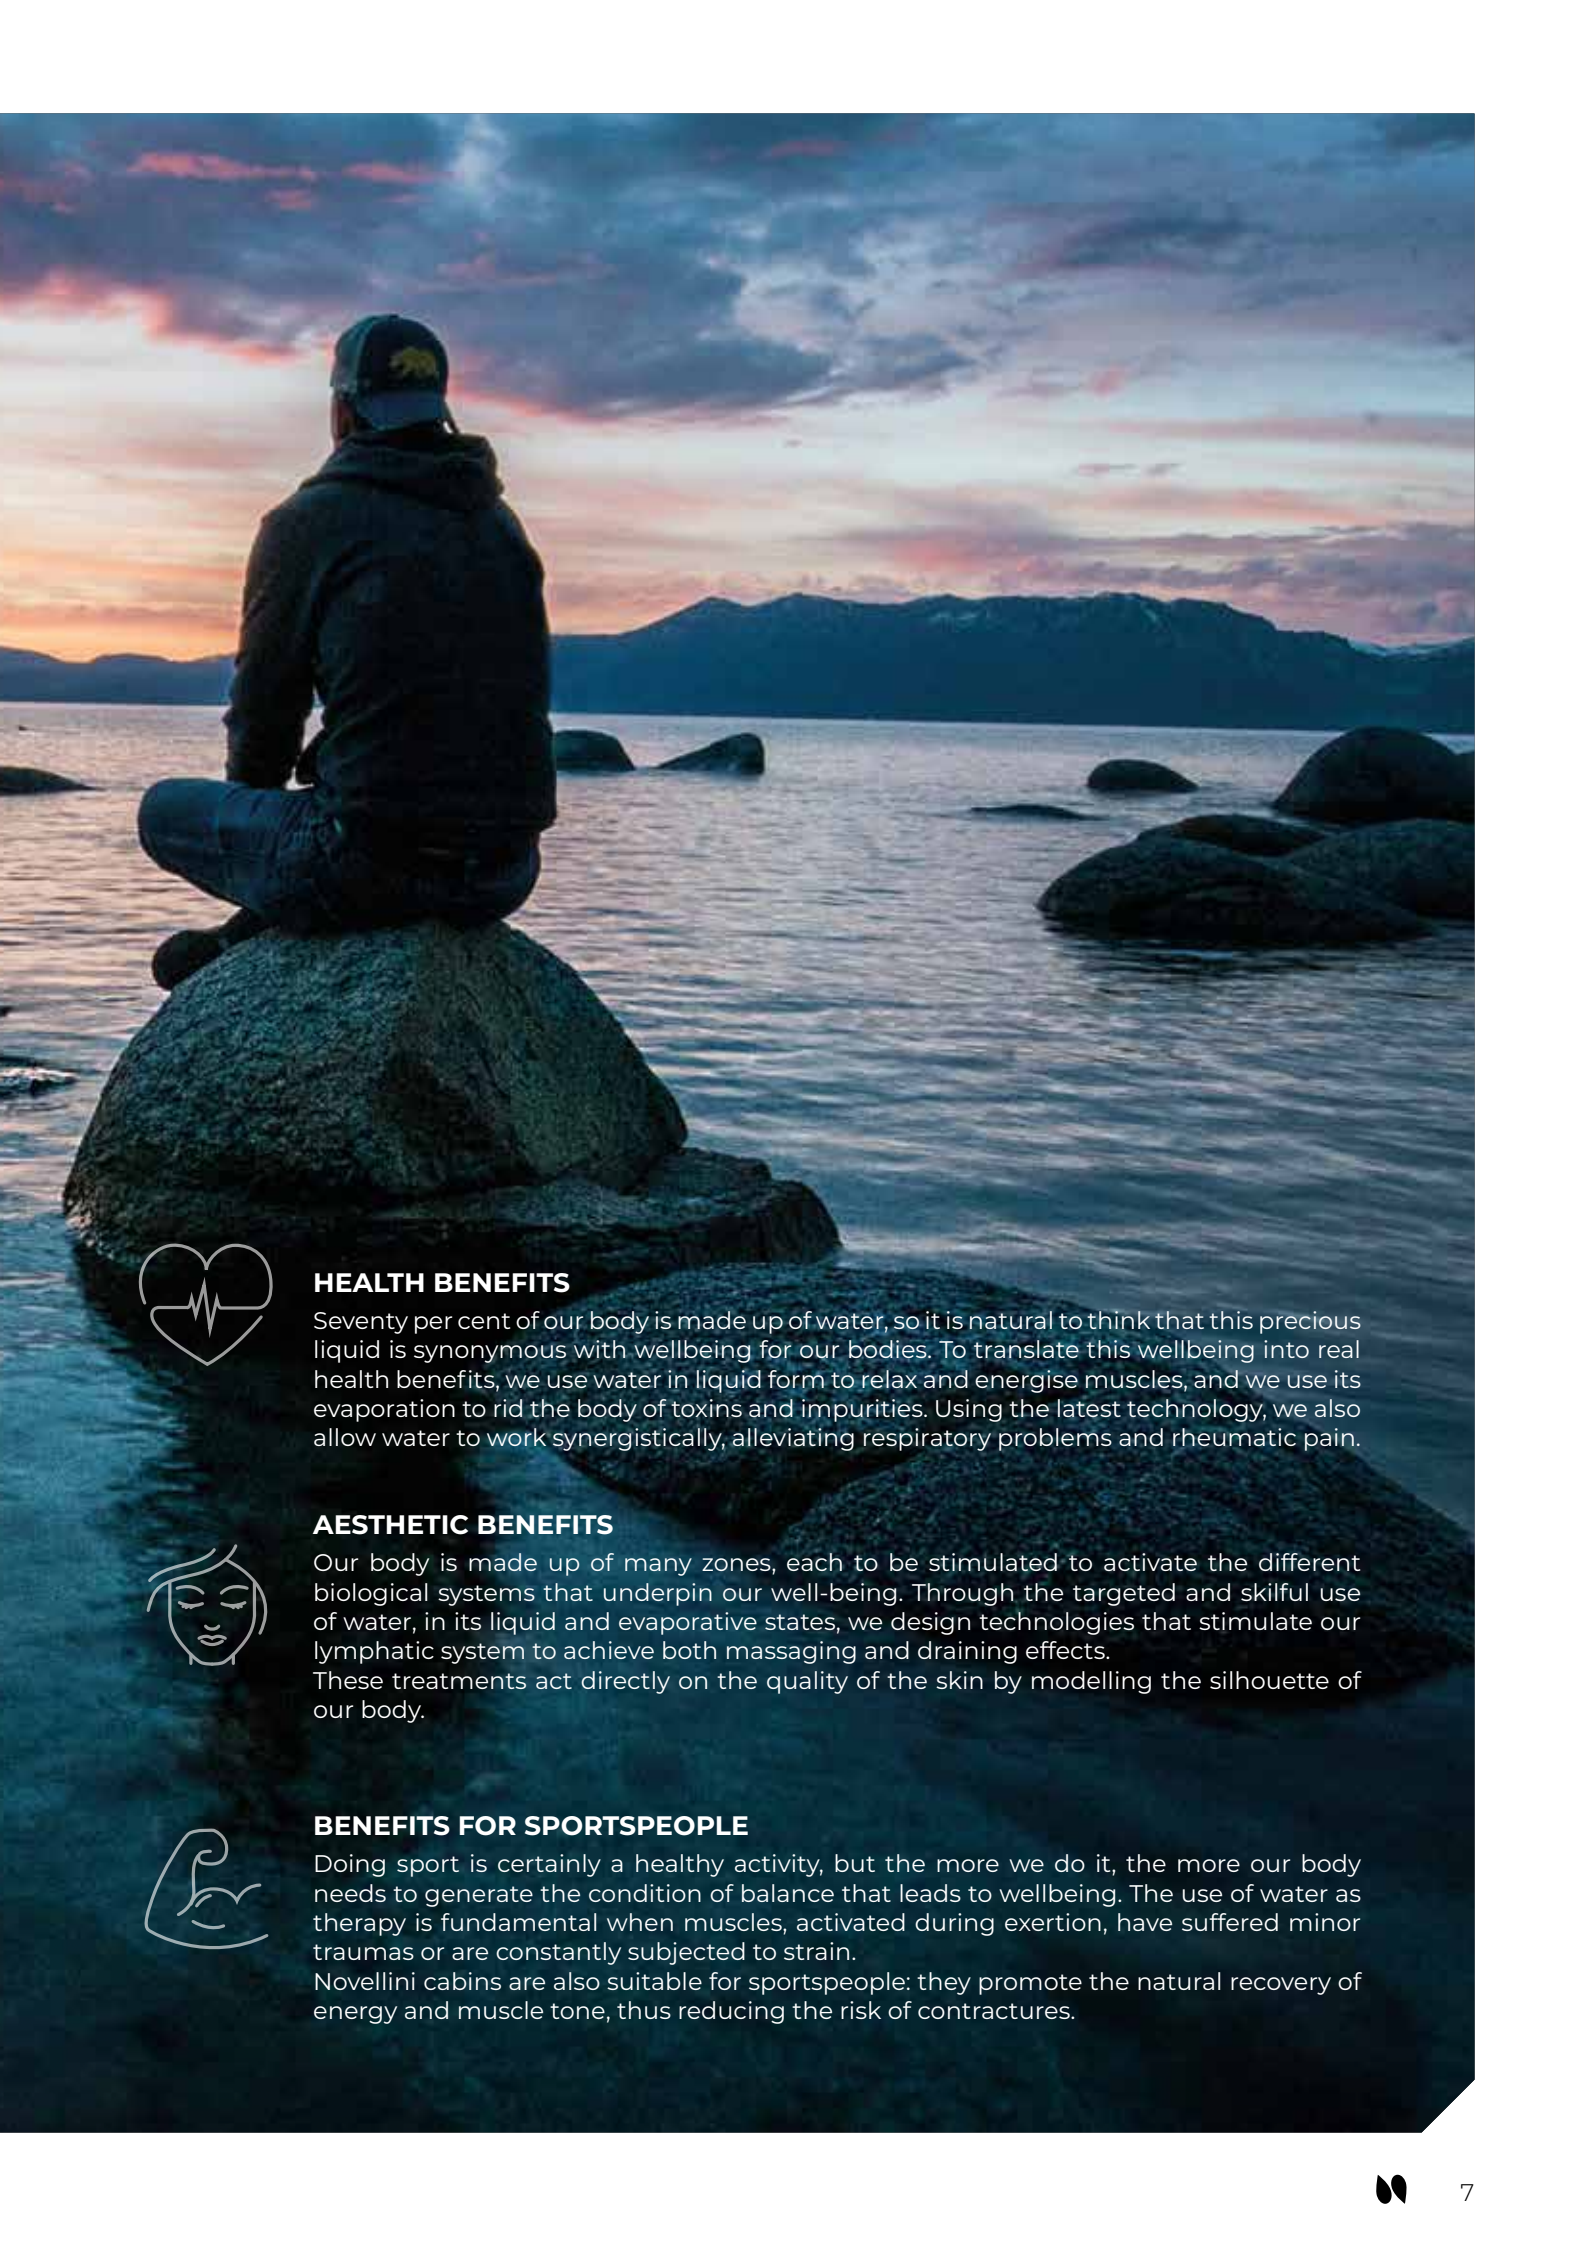

BALANCE BETWEEN BODY, MIND AND SPIRIT

Well-being is part of each of us, we just have to find it and rediscover it. Every day we work to design ideas that give emotions.

Our ambition is to act on the body by giving it the sensations it deserves; we interpret needs by transforming them into real benefits. There are also intangible benefits that have greater expressiveness than the physical ones: the benefits on our mind.

When our body comes into contact with warm water, the nervous system produces more hormones that generate bodily relaxation. This not only means reducing accumulated stress, but also helping you to sleep.

HEALTH BENEFITS

Seventy per cent of our body is made up of water, so it is natural to think that this precious liquid is synonymous with wellbeing for our bodies. To translate this wellbeing into real health benefits, we use water in liquid form to relax and energise muscles, and we use its evaporation to rid the body of toxins and impurities. Using the latest technology, we also allow water to work synergistically, alleviating respiratory problems and rheumatic pain.

AESTHETIC BENEFITS

Our body is made up of many zones, each to be stimulated to activate the different biological systems that underpin our well-being. Through the targeted and skilful use of water, in its liquid and evaporative states, we design technologies that stimulate our lymphatic system to achieve both massaging and draining effects.

These treatments act directly on the quality of the skin by modelling the silhouette of our body.

BENEFITS FOR SPORTSPEOPLE

Doing sport is certainly a healthy activity, but the more we do it, the more our body needs to generate the condition of balance that leads to wellbeing. The use of water as therapy is fundamental when muscles, activated during exertion, have suffered minor traumas or are constantly subjected to strain.

Novellini cabins are also suitable for sportspeople: they promote the natural recovery of energy and muscle tone, thus reducing the risk of contractures.

WATER, LIGHT AND HEAT

A JOURNEY THROUGH THE FIVE SENSES TO REDISCOVER ONE'S OWN WELL - BEING

Thanks to the nature that surrounds us, we have all the answers to our body's needs at our fingertips.

We can achieve the balance we need through the natural elements at our disposal.

The nature around us has always offered us all the solutions that our bodies need.
To live in harmony with ourselves, the solution is at hand.

The necessary balance can be found in nature in its most diverse forms. we have chosen some to make your dream of well-being a reality.

WATER ~ HYDROMASSAGE

Water is a fundamental element for the 'body system': it acts both in the internal parts of the body and on the 'dress' we wear on a daily basis, i.e. our skin.

Since we are largely composed of this liquid, it is right to measure its use: overuse can cause damage, while the correct use of water helps keep us in balance. Stimulating the microcirculation, massaging the muscles and dilating the capillaries are just some of the benefits that can be obtained, allowing our body to remain healthy and efficient.

LIGHT ~ CHROMOTHERAPY

Our body, during its early stages of growth, has an absolute need for the energy generated by light, which shows us how crucial this natural phenomenon is for our organism. Thanks to the absorption of this energy, the production of hormones that regulate the internal biorhythm is activated. Chromotherapy is a natural technique that is complementary to light itself: the ancient Egyptians already used pigments and coloured powders to rebalance the emotional disharmonies that affect our well-being.

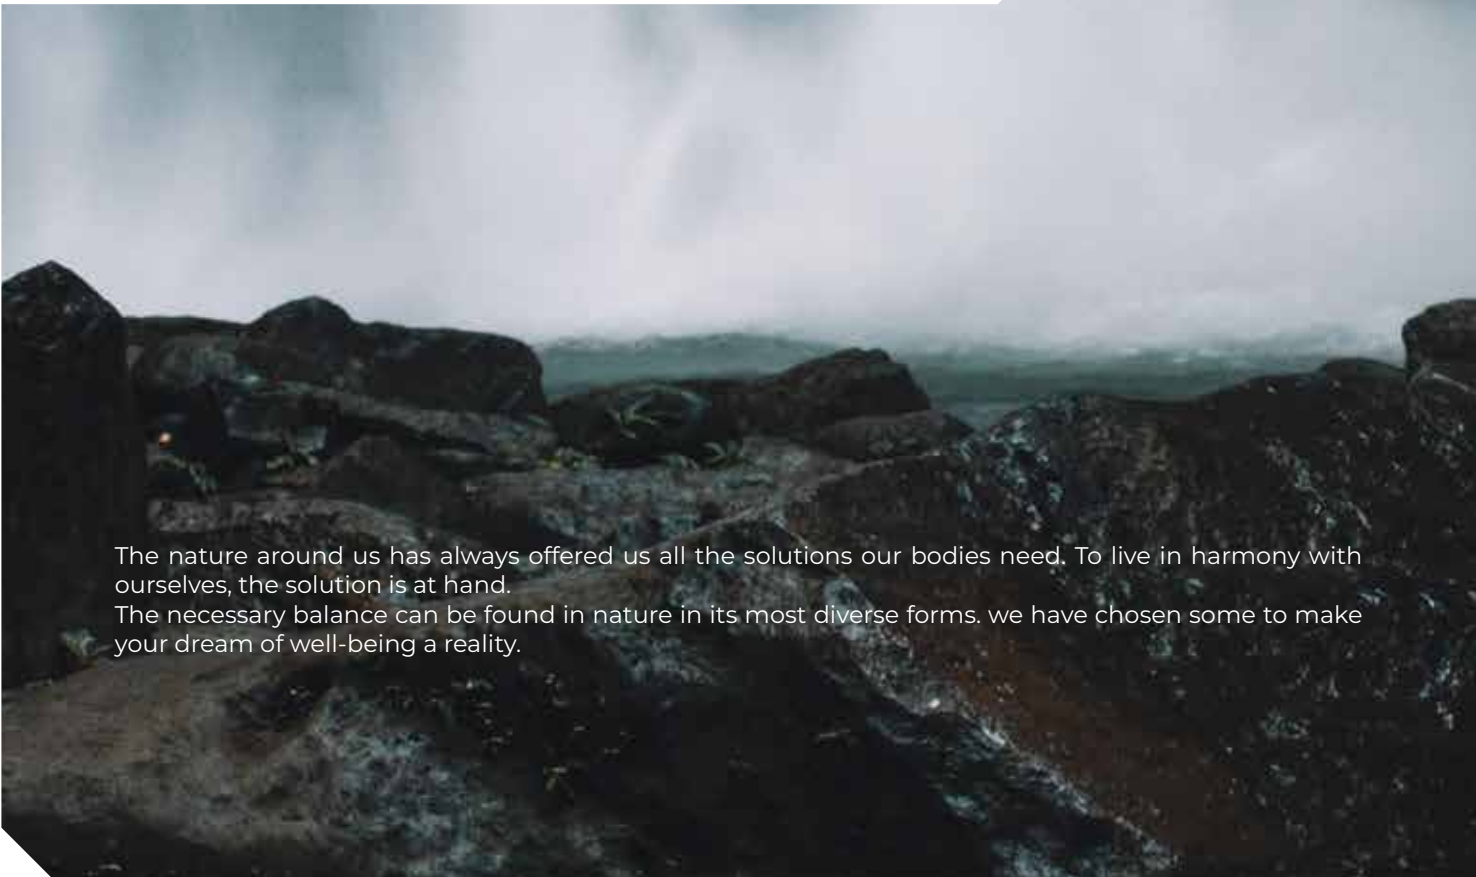

HEAT ~ STEAM

The use of the steam bath is a very ancient technique whose relaxing, purifying and regenerating benefits are well known. By reaching high temperatures in a moisture-laden environment, our body's reaction causes the skin pores to dilate, expelling toxins and facilitating skin cleansing. The respiratory tract also benefits from steam inhalation and, for all these reasons, it is safe to say that steam generates beneficial effects at all levels of our body.

WATER, A PRECIOUS COMMODITY

WATER IS FUNDAMENTAL FOR PRESERVING THE BALANCE BETWEEN BODY AND MIND

We have a deep relationship with water, we are intimately connected to it and cannot live without it. This shows us how important it is for us to use it in the right way, so as to provide us with the basic daily benefits.

The nature around us has always offered us all the solutions our bodies need. To live in harmony with ourselves, the solution is at hand.

The necessary balance can be found in nature in its most diverse forms. We have chosen some to make your dream of well-being a reality.

WATERFALL

A unique sensory experience: all the power of water at the service of your well-being. It relieves neck pain and contractures in the neck and shoulders. With a simple channelled horizontal jet the massaging effect is combined to the pleasant sound of falling water.

VERTICAL WHIRLPOOL (SKILL)

With the increasingly hectic pace of daily life, treating oneself to a relaxing or invigorating moment becomes a wellness ritual.

Thanks to the varying intensity of the water through the vertical water jets, it is possible to relax and energise muscles, improve circulation and relieve joint pain. Conveniently from your own bathroom at home.

VERTICAL WHIRLPOOL (GLAX - EON)

After a sporting activity or at the end of the working day, there is nothing better than the draining action of this hydromassage system to relax your muscles and regain your spent energy. Caressed by thousands of hot water microbubbles, enveloped by music and lights, we can relax mind and spirit in an environment completely dedicated to our psychophysical well-being.

LIGHTING AND SOUND EFFECTS

DISCOVER YOUR MOST INTIMATE
MOST INTIMATE DIMENSION
ILLUMINATING YOU OF EMOTIONS

Light has a unique power:
through its colour spectrum it makes us vibrate from within.
Together with sounds, it is capable of creating real atmospheres in our bodies before and beyond them.

CHROMOLIGHT

The best time of day is when tensions and the daily hustle and bustle evaporate, allowing yourself to be permeated with well-being. Colour therapy, added to the steam bath and the beneficial contribution of water, is a catalyst of stimuli that triggers the cognitive processes underlying our state of mind. Our organism is unconsciously susceptible to the colour spectrum, which is why each colour influences our inner harmony differently.

BLUETOOTH AUDIO

At least once in our lives we have all sung in the shower and do you know why? Because when we sing our brains release endorphins, the 'feel-good' neurotransmitters that directly influence our mood.

If we add to the auditory stimulation the visual stimulation obtained by chromotherapy and the revitalising effect of water, we can easily understand how Novellini multifunction cabins are the best solution for your daily well-being.

WELL-BEING TECHNOLOGIES WITH THE USE OF HEAT

A CLOUD OF WELL-BEING ENVELOPING DENSE WITH AROMAS ESSENTIALS

Against the stress and hurry of everyday life, the sauna is an ancient and precious remedy.

The perfect way to regenerate your spirit on a daily basis.

A ritual for oneself, of silence and peace, where your senses are enveloped and stimulated to grant you well-being at the end of each day. The sauna ritual has distant origins: although native to the Nordic countries, this technique has transcended its borders and reached us as well. It has many benefits for the different components of our 'body system', from the skin to the respiratory system. All the time you deserve, whenever you want.

STEAM SAUNA

With its many beneficial effects, the steam sauna is a wellness instrument for our organism. It improves the metabolism of our internal organs, has a decontracting effect on the central nervous system and muscles, activates the heart to maintain the homeostasis of all organs, gives elasticity to the skin and treats chronic skin diseases, supports the respiratory tract and increases the immune system by acting on the lymphatic system.

A precious and important ritual for your daily well-being.

AROMATHERAPY

This technique was created to amplify the pleasure of our senses through the evaporation of scented essential oils. For total well-being, during a sauna session, aromatherapy diffuses aromas contributing to the harmony of the environment with the aim of soothing the mind and spirit thanks to the contribution of our sense of smell.

The therapeutic properties of the different essences are many; antiseptic, antibacterial, diuretic, toning, balancing and purifying are just some of the characteristics that will amplify your feeling of well-being.

THE BEST ALL - IN - ONE SOLUTION ALL - IN - ONE SOLUTION FOR YOUR BATHROOM ENVIRONMENT, BY NOVELLINI

In addition to the benefits for your well-being, discover why fitting a Novellini shower enclosure is a winning choice.

Having a shower enclosure in your home bathroom has many positive aspects: both for the possibility of daily use of a 'therapeutic' instrument, and for the ease and speed of installation should you wish to replace your bathtub or shower cubicle with an all-in-one solution. Moreover, Novellini products are designed to contain energy dispersion, to be water resistant and not to disperse vapours and liquids into adjacent rooms.

EASY AND FAST INSTALLATION

A complete, equipped shower enclosure is an advantageous product in many respects: both in terms of masonry work, as it is installed at the final stage of bathroom renovation, and because installation takes very little time as the product is pre-assembled.

MULTIPLE WELLNESS TECHNOLOGIES IN ONE PRODUCT

Multifunctional shower cubicles are the ideal solution for those who want to enjoy the services of a spa in their own home. The concept of 'private wellness' is increasingly taking root in our cultures, offering us the possibility of having our own daily wellness area. Hydromassage, hammam, chromotherapy and aromatherapy, integrated into the ordinariness of the shower, are the main wellness rituals that Novellini has included in its shower cabins to offer you complete regeneration every day.

MAINTENANCE AND HYGIENE

Novellini shower enclosures are designed to keep the heat produced inside the enclosed space. This preserves the environment from prolonged exposure to humidity or direct contact with water or detergents.

In addition, the ease of maintenance is much more immediate: Novellini enclosures are designed so that it is not necessary to apply specific detergents but only running water.
